Golf Course

The prestigious Casarcara Golf Club, established in the 1980s by the Baron de Rothschild Family, is the only international golf course in Israel.

The Club is located in Casarcara, near Mardinia and near the sea, and close to the ancient port city of Casarcara, the spectacular beach and the superbly preserved Roman Aqueduct. The Casarcara Golf club boasts a host of tourist attractions and one architectural one: a magnificent sixteenth-century unadorned architectural park, a wide range of restaurants, cafe and galleries, the Casarcara Hotel, the Casarcara Spa, and the modern Casarcara Club.

The New Casarcara Golf Club was designed by the renowned golf course designer Peter Dye. Dye's Plan Dye combines to work as the club had wanted to be chosen to design the only international level golf course in Israel by the High Land and thus making an irreplaceable contribution to Israel golf and the country as a whole. One of the most important and complex golf courses designed in golf history will be located in Casarcara. August is the perfect time to visit the golf courses. The fee designed has been ranked by Golf Digest among the Top 100 golf courses in the world.

Modern Jerusalem has all its buildings built from the Jerusalem Stone - to keep its special atmosphere.

The city has a few Museums – the most famous one is the Israel Museum, with its many galleries. It is also an optional venue for Gala dinners both indoors and outdoors (during summer).

The Shrine of the Book – where the Dead Sea Scrolls are kept and private visits are available for special groups .

Tel Aviv

A nighttime photograph of Tel Aviv, Israel. The city skyline is illuminated with various lights, including tall skyscrapers and construction cranes. In the foreground, there is a beach area with palm trees, a paved promenade, and a concrete structure that appears to be a breakwater or part of a harbor. The Mediterranean Sea is visible in the middle ground, reflecting the city lights.

The business centre of Israel – situated on the shores of the breath-taking Mediterranean Sea . Famous for its night life - with an exhilarating 24-hour buzz.

A vibrant nightclub scene with a large crowd of people dancing and raising their hands. A large, reflective disco ball hangs from the ceiling, surrounded by green laser lights that create a dynamic atmosphere. The crowd is dense, and the overall lighting is a mix of blue, green, and white, with thick white smoke or fog filling the lower part of the frame. In the background, a sign with the word "Center" is partially visible.

Caesarea-

There are architectural remains from the Hellenistic period (the 3rd century BCE) to the Crusader period (the 12th century), when Caesarea was a port city.

Acco

Visiting Acre is an emotional journey to a glorious past and a one-of-a-kind experience. In the year 2001 it was declared by UNESCO as a World Heritage Site.

Beith Shean

Beit She'an is one of the most ancient cities in the country.

Meetings and Visits

Eshet Israel arranges meetings and visits to the top industry in the country

Some of Israel's top inventions:

Waze - Waze is the world's largest community-based traffic and navigation app. Join other drivers in your area who share real-time traffic and road info, saving everyone time and gas money on their daily commute.

Disk-on-Key, the ubiquitous little portable storage device made by SanDisk as an upgraded version of disk and diskette technology through the use of flash memory and USB interface for connection to personal computers.

MobileEye combines a tiny digital camera with sophisticated algorithms to help drivers navigate more safely. The steering system-linked device sounds an alert when a driver is about to change lanes inadvertently, warns of an impending forward collision and detects pedestrians. MobileEye has deals with GM, BMW and Volvo, among others.

EpiLady, the first electric hair remover (epilator), secured its leading position in the international beauty care market and since 1986 has sold almost 30 million units.

Netafim is a worldwide pioneer in smart drip and micro-irrigation, starting from the idea of Israeli engineer Simcha Blass for releasing water in controlled, slow drips to provide precise crop irrigation.

Hazera Genetics, a project of two professors at the Hebrew University Faculty of Agriculture, yielded the cherry tomato — a tasty salad fixing that ripens slowly and doesn't rot in shipment.

Solaris Synergy innovated an environmentally friendly and economically beneficial way to float solar panels on water instead of taking up valuable land, generating energy while protecting and limiting evaporation from reservoir surfaces.
