NAPA VALLEY

Napa Valley is only a 1.5 hour drive from San Francisco. As you leave San Francisco, it may be foggy, but Napa Valley will greet you with sunny blue skies. The drive will take you over the Golden Gate bridge and then through Sonoma County where you will drive through the rolling hills and view incredible vineyards on top of the hills. The drive alone is worth a trip. More than 400 wineries dot the fertile soils of Napa Valley, one of the world's premier wine regions and famous for its prized Cabernet Sauvignon. Stroll through the vineyards, talk with the winemaker, or sip award-winning wines with dramatic views of the valley floor. If you like to stay overnight there are several exclusive boutique hotels and gourmet restaurants that will provide a WOW factor for your trip. Each town in Napa Valley has its own unique charm.

Weather & Best time to visit

Napa Valley weather is mild and wineries are open year round. For the full winemaking experience, visit during late August – October.

WINE TOUR NAPA VALLEY

We recently had a group enjoy our customized wine tour through Napa Valley. We arranged several smaller tuk tuk vehicles and drove to several different vineyards for wine tasting. The vineyards ranged from family owned to modern and commercially operated wineries. On each stop they were greeted by the owner of the vineyard and he gave them a tour of the wine cellar, walked through the vineyard where the guests got insight knowledge of when the grapes are best for which wine and could ask any questions. Of course at each vineyard we had a wine tasting and charcuterie arranged for them. However, the highlight was the private picnic lunch we had set up for them with amazing views on the vineyard. The chef prepared a farm-to-table lunch with local ingredients from the area. The wines were carefully selected to fit with the menu. It was an unforgettable day. When they got back to the room at night they received a bottle of wine from this vineyard with a hand signed note of the vineyard owner.
