The 'Archipencos' is a traditional part of the celebrations during carnival time. The locals turn out in force to see the valiant, and not so valiant, attempts to travel from the beach (regatta style race). The vessels are each individually designed around an own particular theme, and are powered by the efforts of the crew, with a little help, or hindrance from the wind. This activity allows you to enjoy the carnival and ride in floating contraptions with carnival sailors participating in a very special race; the teams will have materials to build the boat, as well as the possibility of designing their own costumes. Furthermore, a Batucada group to cheer the teams up for the race, make-up artists on site or artists such as fire jugglers to roam around the beach & assist the teams can be incorporated.

If you are in Tenerife anytime from April to September consider yourself lucky since this is the season of Romerías – a traditional festival you can't miss. On beautifully decorated carts, people hand out food and wine to the crowd. Some of the carts used to be pulled by oxen, cows or even mighty bulls (now they are adapted vehicles –normally big trucks) Herds of goats or sheep also take part in the parade & still do, while the people dress in traditional costumes of all colours there is music and dance everywhere and there's just a great atmosphere. Spain is known for celebrating fiestas like no other country but Romerías are special events even here, so...

Why not create you own Romería?

The idea is to create a similar Canarian concept where we would dress food trucks with canarian elements to create the "cart" concept, wooden rustic tables & waiters dressed in Canarian clothing offering typical Canarian food, artisan beers as well as games & activities such as recognise local wines blindfolded, prepare traditional dishes like Gofio or Mojos, participate in traditional canarian dancing, have a try at Canarian wrestling &/or stick fighting, roll a cigar or even milk a goat. The possibilities are endless!

So, Why Tenerife?

CLIMATE – Tenerife and the Canary Islands are blessed with an all year round agreeable climate

LOCATION – an exotic, subtropical destination without any big time difference / jet lag

CONNECTIVITY – travel time is not too long, and Tenerife is well connected (2 airports)

HEALTH – there are no poisonous or otherwise dangerous animals on land or in the water, no infectious tropical diseases, no vaccinations / prophylaxis needed. On the contrary, many people come to Tenerife because it's good for their health!

SAFETY – being a laid back part of Spain and the European Union, the Islands are politically stable, and with much less terrorist threat than most other attractive places in Europe

LANDSCAPES – the Canary Islands, and especially Tenerife boast fascinating volcanic landscapes, National Parks (the National Park of Mount Teide is the most popular in Spain), full of contrasts. Many movies have been filmed here, from the 60ties up to today (at the moment, it's Wonder woman and Rambo)

WHALES – the waters just offshore Tenerife's southwest are the year round natural habitat for these wonderful animals – there are only 3 places in the world where you can watch them any day of the year!

INFRASTRUCTURE - top offer of hotels, conference centers, restaurants, activities & attractions, and all of it only small distances apart – the islands and especially Tenerife South is very well prepared!

CULINARY OFFER – and not to be forgotten that Canarian & Spanish cuisine and wines are between the world's most delightful our PEOPLE – international and yet very local, proud of their islands and very happy to receive visitors, the Canarian's are not only friendly, but special; geographically and culturally somewhere between Spain, Africa, and South America. Feel this fascinating blend in our Carnival, which is said to be the second best in the world!
